

HE DID NOT BLAB.

Thurston's Friends Rally in His Behalf.

Arguments by Laymen on the Nice Points of Diplomatic Procedure.

It is Claimed that He Had a Right to Publish Any Information Obtained Independent of the State Department.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Although Mr. Thurston, the Hawaiian Minister, refuses to discuss the causes that led to his estrangement with Secretary Gresham, his friends think it only fair to him to refuse the published allegation that he has betrayed diplomatic secrets.

Admitting that Thurston did as it is alleged, his friends assert that he did not exceed his diplomatic duties in the slightest respect in making public the sentences imposed on several of the Hawaiian conspirators by the military court. The proceedings of the court were conducted openly, and the sentences of the prisoners had been publicly announced in Hawaii, and all the facts reached San Francisco by the first mail steamer from the Society of Thurston's friends say that he has never betrayed any official communication or secret oral confidence in the correspondence between his government and himself and the government of the United States, or any of its representatives.

It is admitted that it would have been a manifest impropriety for him to have divulged any information from the Society of the State concerning the relations between Hawaii and the United States. At the same time, it is claimed for him that he was perfectly free to publish any information he desired in regard to the events in the Hawaiian republic that came into his possession entirely independent of the State Department, provided he did not comment on the actions of the United States government in regard thereto. The suggestion is made here that a movement will be made in the future looking to Hawaiian annexation, and that Thurston's intimate knowledge of affairs both in this country and in Hawaii will lead him to having a prominent connection with my commission on the part of Hawaii to negotiate for terms of admission to the Union.

WORKING FOR ANNEXATION.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Late advices from Hawaii state that Charles R. Wilson, John Colburn, Anton Row and John Pacharson, prominent royalists, have taken part in forming an annexation club among Hawaiians. This is regarded as a declaration among the chief royalists that they are阴谋ing for annexation.

THE LIKENS LETTER.

The court held that the letter could not be considered private property, as it was addressed to the Matron of the Police Department.

MAY INVESTIGATE.

The Injunction Against the Louisianans and Arbitrators Dissolved.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

NEW ORLEANS, March 21.—Judge F. D. King today decided the injunction proceedings filed against the State Board of Arbitration by the Street-car President's Union in favor of the board. The board was investigating the grievances of car drivers when it was enjoined from proceeding any further. The decision now allows it to proceed to business and the belief is that the board will now take up the legal trouble and find a way of settling.

DISPUTED POINTS.

Snags in the Way of the Constitutional Convention's Progress.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SALT LAKE CITY (Utah), March 21.—Very little progress was made today in the constitutional convention. The committee of the whole took up Sec. 4 of the preamble and declaration of rights, referring to the taxation of church property, etc., and after a long debate the whole section was laid on the table.

The section referring to the suspension of the habeas corpus precipitated considerable discussion. When the convention adjourned, Sec. 10, referring to trial by jury, was being discussed.

IMPORTED LABOR.

A Lot of Diamond Cutters to be Sent Home.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

NEW YORK, March 21.—A large consignment of diamond-cutters arrived today on the Majestic from Liverpool. There were 125 of them. They were detained and sent to Elles Island suspected of being contraband laborers. They will be given a speedy examination and those who are proven to have come over under contract will be sent back.

New District Judges.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The following appointments were announced today: William M. Springer of Illinois, Judge of the Northern District of Indian Territory; C. B. Kilgore of Texas, Judge of the Southern District of Indian Territory. The Indian Territory judgeships are new offices, established by Congress for the purpose of checking the spread of lawlessness in Indian Territory, which has become the refuge of robbers and outlaws.

Got the Wrong Man.

NEW YORK, March 21.—William Taylor of Laurel Hill, L. I., a traveling salesman for B. Diaz & Co., importers of tobacco, has arrived from Havana on the steamer Santa Lucia, on which he was held a prisoner on board the steamer Orizaba by the Spanish government at Havanna. He was not allowed to land for sixteen hours. Taylor was suspected by the Pinkerton detectives at Havanna of being State Treasurer W. W. Taylor of South Dakota, who is a fugitive from justice.

The Renton Murder.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The Montezuma, bound to Mobile from Trujillo, Capt. Davis has arrived, completed his investigation of the case of the murdered American, Renton, and will report the facts to the Secretary of the Navy, who will in turn transmit it to the Department of State.

CHIPPED TOO OFTEN.

Two Miners Arrested at Cripple Creek for Stealing Ore.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

COLORADO SPRINGS (Colo.) March 21.—Solomon McCloskey and Tremont McCloskey, arrested at Cripple Creek on the charge of stealing ore from the Union Gold Mining Company, were brought to this city and released, after furnishing $5000 bail each. The complaint alleges that systematic stealing was carried on for about one year, and aggregates a sum between $50,000 and $100,000.

The McCloskey brothers had a lease on the main workings of the Pike's Peak lode, which they secured from the Union company. Some time ago the royalty on ore from the lease decreased to a very low figure. The company began an investigation which ended in the conclusion that the brothers had chipped off gold-bearing rock from the quartz they mined and subject it to a process of their own in order to get the gold out of it.

The ore they had subjected to this test was then it is charged, mixed with common rock on the dump and shipped to the smelter. The miners' returns were not half what they would have been had not the greater part of the gold been chipped out of the quartz, the retorts thus secured being kept by the miners who did not have to share the profits.

THE HONOLULU REBELS.

The Last of the Lot Tried and Sent to Prison.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

NEW YORK, March 21.—A special dispatch from Honolulu says that the recent rebellion is now legally thing of the past, for less than a week ago the Judge-Advocate of the Military Commission announced that the government had no more cases of treason to bring before that body. The last lot of prisoners sentenced were twenty-five ragged and poverty-stricken natives who were given a brief trial, occupying less than an hour's time and were hustled off to prison. The man who was given five years' imprisonment and two were given six years each.

No one seems to know what action will be taken in the case of the ex-Queen, who still a prisoner in one of the rooms at the palace. The ex-Queen continues in good health, which is a great relief. Both were tried at the close.

Fifth round—Choyinski landed his left on Creedon's head and sent him to the floor. Dade coming down as hard as though he had fallen off a three-story building.

Sixth round—in the last round it was hammer and tongue, with Choyinski doing all the hammering. He drove right and left into Creedon's face and finally gave him a half dozen solid right-hand clinches, repeatedly to save himself and was a very weary man when the round closed. He did not look able to go two rounds more.

Jimmy Barry of Chicago, the 105-pound champion, practically knocked out Joe Bertando of California in a six-round contest, after the fight the ring was so bad, Bertando was knocked down a dozen times and was not able to stand in the sixth round, the fighting being stopped to save a knockout.

CHOYNISKI'S FIGHT.

He All but Knocks Out Dan Creedon.

No Decision Rendered, but it Was All His Way Except in One Round.

A Mexican Bullfighter Gored—East St. Louis Races—A Change at Bay District—Winters' New Filly.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

CHICAGO, March 21.—The six-round match between Joe Choyinski and Dan Creedon was a draw, no decision being given by the referee. The conditions provided that if both men were on their feet at the conclusion of the ninth round no decision would be given. Choyinski had all the best of it, except in one round. He knocked Creedon down twice, bringing the blood in a stream from his nose, and had his man very tired and groggy, when the sixth round closed. Choyinski weighed 161 pounds, and, although Creedon's weight was not given, he looked to weigh fully as much.

First round—Choyinski landed hard on Creedon's head, and got a hot one on the body in return. Several exchanges followed, but no heavy blows were struck.

Second round—This was Choyinski's round, he doing all the leading. He landed frequently with his left on Creedon's heart and face. He drew first blood with a wicked drive on the nose, and had Creedon badly wounded when the gong sounded.

Third round—Creedon had the best of it, getting in some fast blows and driving Choyinski into the ropes with a blow over the kidneys, as Choyinski rose from a dive.

Fourth round—Creedon reached Choyinski's head several times, but the latter kept poking his left into Creedon's face with a persistence that seemed to demoralize the latter. Both were tired at the close.

Sixth round—in the last round it was hammer and tongue, with Choyinski doing all the hammering. He drove right and left into Creedon's face and finally gave him a half dozen solid right-hand clinches, repeatedly to save himself and was a very weary man when the round closed. Peter Maher, the Irish champion, has written to John L. that he is willing to box Corbett four rounds on their merits. No details have yet been arranged for the benefit.

It is said the defense will be prepared by Col. E. L. James, who will have the assistance of Tracy, Boardman & Platt, A. J. Wilkins, Emmanuel M. Friend and Louis J. Grimaldi.

Lawyer Friend said after the proceedings were over that counsel have never interfered to raise any demur.

"We do not intend," he said, "to delay the trial in any way or raise any demurrers. We are quite willing to meet the trial. The finding of not guilty to date, however, does not debar us from making a motion to quash the indictments when the trial is called."

Col. Fellows will conduct the trials in person. He will be assisted by ex-Surrogate Rollins and Austin G. Fox, Assistant District Attorney Lindsay was also called in to assist Col. Fellows.

The prospect of 2000 electrical horsepower for mechanical purposes makes San Diego people happy.

The capacity of the famous Sweetwater reservoir near San Diego, is to be increased from 6,000,000,000 to over 7,000,000,000 gallons.

Of the three to four thousand voters in San Diego 1200 are said to belong to the A.P.A. They propose to make their votes count at the city election on April 2.

Pasadena has reached the conclusion that it is a city, and a city with a big C, and it therefore proposes to have its own city hospital, and not be obliged to call on its neighbors to look after its sick.

San Diego fruit ranchers claim that they have difficulty in getting sufficient help to care for their orchards. There is no good reason for men going without work in that country.

(Pasadena Star.)—Investors arriving in Los Angeles are reported as saying that that city offers the best field for investment of any in the United States.

And they are telling the truth about the matter, too.

Riverside section will, this season, ship over three thousand carloads of oranges. Reports from there state that up to the present time 818 carloads have been shipped, which is only about one-fourth of the crop.

The Santa Anas continue to wrestle bravely with their street-pavement problem. The magnificent recklessness they are displaying in regard to cost indicates that before they get through they will really and truly have streets paved with gold.

The fact that a water company is able to develop 9000 inches of water at the boundary of the city of San Diego is regarded as conclusive evidence that the Silver Gate is abundantly provided with water. That city now has a two years' supply of water stored in reservoirs.

The people of San Bernardino are fond of chickens, but they like them nicely browned on a hot plate. They have made up their minds they won't have them any other way and have instructed the City Attorney to draft an ordinance making it a misdemeanor for a chicken to be found on the street after dark.

A petition has been presented to the City Council asking that an ordinance be adopted restricting the use of sidewalks for coasting purposes. The practice of coasting on sidewalks has of late increased, and as it is usually by reckless boys it is quite dangerous. Such an ordinance as asked would no doubt have a good effect.

If the city of Riverside cannot lay claim to having existed during the dark ages, it can boast, as the Times correspondent at that point says, of possessing within its borders two descendants of some of those who first sighted this free and happy land from the deck of the Mayflower, one of them being of the John Alden branch, the other of the Miles Standish branch.

A Florida correspondent of a Southern California paper says that after the first freeze down South some of the Florida orange groves made a growth of a "mile and a half." The writer does not say whether the growth is horizontal, perpendicular oritudinous, but in either case it beats anything California can produce in that line. And we are some on big growing ourselves.

In Santa Monica at the Trustees' meeting Tuesday evening the W.C.T.U. and its allies sat in one body and the saloon-keepers and their champions in another, and only a narrow alleyway divided them. It was an unusual juxtaposition, made all the more conspicuous by the fact that each wing listened to fervid oratory of a character that was new to their ears. The general good order maintained was a tribute to the high quality of Santa Monica's citizenship.

The result of the bond-refunding election held yesterday was not unexpected. The ordinance for refunding was carried by a vote of 610 to 76 against. This is a very small vote, it is true—much smaller in fact than it ought to have been. But the verdict is just as binding as it would have been had all the voters in the city gone to the polls, instead of only a small proportion of them. And a full vote would unquestionably have increased the ratio of the yes to those of the nays. The question is well settled.

If one would see Nature in her self-complacent mood, he must visit the Chino ranch one of these mornings, when the shower of the night previous is still in evidence. North of the town grain fields stretch away acre upon acre and mile on mile, there is no break save where occasional orchards of peach or almond give rare bits of color, with their pink-petaled blossoms. To the south stretch the best fields whose interminable rows are visible as far as the eye can follow them. Wild heliotrope, dainty bluebells purple cluster-flies, the familiar lupines, fragrant baby-blue-eyes, and the modest yellow violets lend varied hues to the lush native grasses, and relieve the monotony which the plethora of green might cause. Southern California is experiencing its most beautiful season just now, and in no section has Nature been more prodigal of her favors than in the Chino Valley.

BY A BIG MAJORITY.

THE PROPOSITION TO REFUND THE BONDS CARRIED.

A Light Total Vote, but a Safe Margin—The Saving that is to be Effected by the City of Los Angeles.

By a vote of 610 to 76 the electors of the city who took the trouble to cast their ballots yesterday expressed their wishes in favor of the refunding of a portion of the city's bonded indebtedness amounting to $396,000.

The election was a quiet one throughout the city, no incidents of an exciting nature being reported. It required but a short time to count the ballots, and the official returns were filed in the City Clerk's office before 7 o'clock last evening.

The total vote for the ward constituting a precinct, was 688. There were two valid votes. The vote by wards for and against the proposed issue of bonds was as follows:

Ward.	For.	Against.
First.	51	20
Second.	51	14
Third.	121	4
Fourth.	72	6
Fifth.	49	8
Sixth.	41	3
Seventh.	69	11
Eighth.	61	11
Ninth.	65	11
Totals.	610	76

The votes cast at yesterday's election will probably be canvassed at the meeting of the City Council to be held Monday. After the results have been officially declared, it will require a number of weeks to draw up for the payment of the bonds and to give intending purchasers an opportunity to examine to their satisfaction as to the validity of the issue.

The bonds are to be 400 in number, and serial in character. They are all to be dated May 1, 1895, and to bear interest at the rate of 1/2 cent per annum. The principal is to be payable annually on May 1 and November 1, and one-fourth of the principal and accrued interest are to be paid each year. Interest and principal are payable at the Chemical National Bank, New York city.

The Council Reconsiders the Sand Contract.

Another Arson Case Occupying the Attention of Township Justice Young.

An Injunction Dissolved by Judge Van Dyke—Feculic Proceedings in an Insane Case—General Court Notes.

The Mayor was requested by the City Council yesterday to return, without his approval, the Metcalf contract for riverbed sand. Members of the Park Commission visited Elysian Park for the purpose of examining certain improvements expected to be made under the proposed bond issue.

At the Courthouse yesterday the B. Duncan libel suit and the Tropicana arson case divided the attention of the court-room habitues. As both were heard upon the top floor, the civil and criminal courts on the third floor were almost deserted. Martin Wilson, the whited-forger, was sentenced to San Quentin for three years, and J. J. Hanley, a burglar, for one year.

AT THE CITY HALL.

Mayor Asked to Return It.
COUNCIL TAKES ACTION ON THE METCALF CONTRACT.

As had been expected the result of the special meeting of the City Council called for the purpose yesterday was that the Mayor was requested to return without his approval the contract whereby H. H. Metcalf was to have been given the exclusive right of taking sand and gravel, under certain conditions, from the bed of the river for a period of ten years.

The meeting attracted a good deal more interest than special sessions of the Council usually do, though there was a large number of men in the lobby; most of them being contractors, although there were also to be seen the familiar figures of T. D. Stimson and O. T. Johnson.

Immediately after calling the meeting to order and the reading of the call by the clerk, President Teed asked Councillor Stockwell to the chair. Councillor Pease then moved that the Mayor be requested to return unapproved the contract, a motion which was seconded by President Teed.

Councillor Pease explained somewhat in detail how the members of the Council came to approve the contract, and stated that at the time of approving it it was thought the contract would be a good thing for the city.

Ex-City Attorney McFarland, representing Mr. Metcalf, the contractor, was heard. He said that the contract having been approved by the Council it would be well to act as of breaking faith for the city to endeavor to prevent the contract, after it had gone so far, from being entered into.

President Teed said that when the contract was approved he believed it was going to result in an increase of revenue to the city. Later developments, however, had brought him to believe that the sand and gravel of the river bed could be sold for less than the price paid for it, and it John Redman, the contractor, had informed him that he would be willing to pay to the city 25 cents per load instead of 8 cents. Frank Ward, the sidewalk man, had informed him that there was little chance for a "cinch" in the proposed contract, for the reason that there are quantities of sand and gravel to be had in the city, and if the contractor for the river bed and gravel were to charge exorbitant prices for those materials could be obtained in the Arroyo Seco. He had also been informed that near Ninth street there is a considerable amount of land that is not very valuable from the surface of which a good deal of sand and gravel may be obtained.

As for the city establishing a system of tolls to the charged parties hauling sand and gravel out of the river bed President Teed said he thought it would be poor policy to adopt such a plan. It might occur that the parties employed to collect the tolls might not render proper account of the loads hauled out.

E. A. Mesever, Esq., who stated that he represented certain heavy taxpayers, was here. He said that it had been learned that a few contractors had a monopoly of hauling a few cubic yards of sand and gravel from the river bed, and had been taking almost unlimited quantities of those materials from it.

Mr. McFarland, speaking further in behalf of Mr. Metcalf, said that that gentleman was not a contractor, but was a man of means who had seen this way of the city securing a revenue and had therefor made the proposition. It seemed that, after having gone as far as it had, the Council ought not to attempt to unduly influence the Mayor not to sign the contract.

John Rebman stated that in some of the large buildings such as are being erected in the city from $1500 to $2000 worth of sand and gravel at 25 cents per cubic yard is used. He would be willing to pay 25 cents per load for the exclusive privilege of taking out the sand and gravel from the river bed if he could have the right to sell it for 25 cents per cubic yard. The loads that were being taken from the river were from one and one-third to two cubic yards each and in some cases they would amount to more than that.

President Teed remarked that in voting for the approval of the contract he had understood that a load was a cubic yard, and the same. On finding out that it was not, he would want to ask the Mayor to return the contract if for no other reason.

At the request of Mr. McFarland an agreement was read whereby Mr. Metcalf would consider the terms "load" and "cubic yard" to be synonymous.

Colonel Kingeray said it appeared that this Council was not the only "Sand-hedron" that had ever sat. The Council had acted for what was believed to be the best good of the city and now that it seemed such a contract was not for the best interests of the city, the Council was willing to acknowledge it had erred in judgment.

It was stated by President Teed that the close of the day of election of citizens in his (the Fifth) ward was that the city ought to receive a revenue from the sand and gravel.

Capt. A. F. Mackey, being heard, stated that a conservative estimate of the sand and gravel taken from the bed of the river places the amount at from 100,000 to 150,000 cubic yards per year. He thought that as for the city taking any action of the sort proposed the matter had better be left as it was. It was worth 25 cents per cubic yard to clear out of the river bed, screen it and load it.

A PECULIAR PROCEEDING.

At the instance of the friends and relatives of Eli Eyrard, the Frenchman who was adjudged insane and committed to Highlands Asylum on Wednesday afternoon by Judge York, a consultation of about a dozen of the best-known physicians in the city was held yesterday in the office of Dr. W. H. Barber.

Capt. E. Brainard and Lindley, upon whose recommendation Eyrard was judicially declared to be insane, therupon reconsidered the matter, and upon returning a few minutes later, stated that the Mayor and Capt. E. Brainard would consider the question, he not as yet having read the contract sufficiently to feel properly informed to act six months, which was done.

FORGER WILSON SENTENCED.

In Department One yesterday morning Martin Wilson appeared before Judge Smith and entered his plea of guilty to the two charges of forgery preferred against him, whereupon he was sentenced to imprisonment in the State Prison at San Quentin for the term of three years.

The specific charges against Wilson were not a little to the maintaining of the financial credit of the city.

The interest on the initial sewer, telephone and school-improvement bonds is payable semi-annually at the Chemical National Bank in New York. In order that it may be there promptly when due it is the custom of the City Treasurer, and has been for some time, to purchase exchange on New York for amount to be paid there. This money in each case is sent ten days before the time when the interest is due and is sent so that there will be little chance of the money not being in New York to pay the bondholders at the time they call for it.

DISSOLVED THE INJUNCTION.

Judge Van Dyke yesterday rendered his decision in the case of James W. Wilson and H. P. Sweet against Henry W. Carter, which was recently submitted to him upon motion to dissolve the injunction herein, ordering that said motion be dismissed.

THE ELECTRIC LINE.

Must Build Another Viaduct at South Pasadena.

More Stories About the San Diego, Cuyamaca and Eastern Extension.

The Union Pacific's Oregon Line—Missouri Pacific and George Gould—Local and General Notes.

Arrangements have at last been completed by which the Pasadena and Los Angeles Electric Railway Company will be enabled to build a viaduct over the Terminal Railway's tracks at South Pasadena. The latest route approved for the electric road from Mission street in South Pasadena to Columbia street in Pasadena is by way of Oak Hill. The hill is so near the Terminal track that a crossing at grade would be dangerous and a viaduct was decided upon for safety and speed, so the electric cars will cross above the steam railroad. When this structure is completed but little more work will remain to be done to make the track complete between its terminals.

E. P. Clark, vice-president and general manager of the Los Angeles Consolidated Electric Railroad company, says that the financial skirmishing in which that company is at present involved, preliminary to a reorganization, will have no effect upon the Pasadena line.

HOUSE AND LOT.

A Rather Dull Week in Real Estate.

There are plenty of bargains left for the investor who is enterprising.

CITY AND COUNTRY—SALE ON LOS ANGELES STREET—A MAIN STREET BLOCK—STREET OBSTRUCTIONS—NOTES.

Business has been very dull in the real estate market during the past week. Why this is nobody seems to know. It appears that some people have got an impression that because prices on South Broadway have been advanced in some cases to an unreasonably high figure, there are no more bargains to be had in town.

PLenty of BARGAINS LEFT.

This is an unreasonable view to take of the market. Because prices of real estate on one street have been advancing to a figure which discounts the future a year or two is no reason why it should be concluded that there is no more money to be made in Los Angeles real estate. The very contrary of this is the fact. Scarcely a day passes in which property is not offered at prices which make water in the mouth of the real estate sharp, who has more knowledge of values than cash in the banks. The trouble is that most of these real estate operators are built too much after the fashion of sheep, who run after a leader to stampede them into a herd. The investor or speculator who has the pluck to start out alone for himself, and who can see a few inches in front of his nose, has as good an opportunity to make money in Los Angeles today as ever existed in this market. This is true not only of the outlying sections of the city and of the country immediately surrounding, but also of the business section outside of South Broadway, which, as The Times has stated, has been boom'd to an unreasonable extent during the past few weeks, and which consequently experienced a natural setback as soon as speculators discovered that we were not in the market for such an unreasonable real estate boom. On such streets as Spring street, Main street, Los Angeles street, Seventh street, Hill street and North Broadway there is property to be bought today at prices which will not only insure the purchaser a profit of from 20 to 50 per cent. within twelve months, but will also pay him a fair interest on his investment in the meantime.

While this is true of the business section, the statement is still more pertinent in regard to the residence sections of the city, within a mile or two of the business center. To mention only one residence center, the block of eight houses, each 50x150 feet, four of which are upon a graded and gravitated street, on a high elevation, commanding a magnificent view of the surrounding country, within seven minutes' walk of three lines of street railway, which cost $10,000 per acre, will be sold for $50 to $100 per acre. Now, the man who does not see a profit of from 50 to 100 per cent. in these lots within twelve months must be very obtuse, and yet there are plenty of people in Los Angeles today who have thousands of dollars on deposit in the banks and who yet complain that they can find no place to invest their money. They will all the same, as soon as there is something of a boom in real estate, and prices have advanced from 50 to 100 per cent., these same people will be rushing in and investing. It is always the same thing over again, and it becomes difficult to restrain these third-rate brains, but it seems that the average investor will never learn to "buy 'em when they're low and sell 'em when they're high."

CITY AND COUNTRY.

One of the unfavorable features of the real estate market just now is the tendency to concentrate in the city. The Times has drawn attention on several occasions of late to the propensity of the banks to favor investments in the city in preference to those in the country. Apparently this comes from the considerable profits for real estate agents report as during the last few weeks it has been more than usually difficult to get intending investors to look at property outside of the city limits. There is a tendency—a more or less unhealthy tendency—to concentrate in the city. There are any number of farmers who want to stick to their place of origin, and yet there are few city people who want to move out into the country. In short, the demand for city property is far ahead of that for country property. This is not encouraging to those who are interested in leading the development of the city. The time is when the city begins to grow ahead of the surrounding country upon which it depends for support; it is time to look out for squats ahead. It is all very well to put on "highfalutin" airs, and talk about the "hayseed," who comes up to town to spend his hard-earned dollars and to spend the fruits of the attractions of the city, but when it comes down to hard fact, the city depends almost entirely upon those same hard-working, worthy people for its support, and as The Times has remarked, there would be a sorry-looking lot of property owners if the city did not manage to grow.

If these same farmers should stop growing their alfalfa, barley, peaches, oranges, cabbages and so forth. Property-owners and real estate men in general cannot too often have the fact impressed upon them that the producer does not depend upon the city for support, but that, on the contrary, the city is the main artery of the surrounding country, to which it is tributary. It is about time that the banks and money-lenders should begin to pursue a somewhat more liberal policy in regard to the outlying sections, or else they will endanger the stability of the security upon which they have been making their "gilt-edged" loans.

DOWN SOUTH.

The development that is going forward in Los Angeles today, which is certainly striking, runs somewhat more in one way than is pleasing to those who would like to see the city grow as much as possible in every direction. At present it cannot be denied that a great majority of the improvements—probably four-fifths of them—are to the north, south, east and west. One of the latest tracts to be placed on the market in the fashionable part of the town is the Del Valle, consisting of forty lots, each 75x172 feet, bounded by Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, Figueroa and Key West streets. These lots are offered at $300 per foot on Twenty-eighth street, and about $20 on Twenty-seventh street. Fine improvements are going up in this neighborhood, and eight lots were sold in the tract as soon as it was placed on the market.

arouse themselves and make an effort to push this fine thoroughfare to the front, where it belongs. And, in addition to the first-class business block is to be erected at the northwest corner of Main and Fourth street by I. N. Van Nuys. At present prices, property on South Main street is about as cheap as anything that can be found in the city, and it is difficult to see that good bargains as are now offered on that thoroughfare are allowed to go at a loss.

OBSTRUCTING THE STREETS.

The Times has on several occasions of late called attention to the unreasonable manner in which contractors and others obstruct the leading thoroughfares of the city, whenever they have occasion to undertake any private improvements. On this subject the Record has the following remarks:

"We wish to call the attention of Mayor Rader and the City Council to the shameful manner in which the public streets are being taken away from the people, to whom they legitimately belong, and given over to the building contractors. Opposite the City Hall are two large buildings in progress, to accommodate the contractors of which the Street Superintendent has given them not only the entire sidewalk but also all six feet of the street to width of six feet of the cable railway track. This procedure is full of danger to life and limb, and the Council should stop it at once. The middle of the street belongs to the people of Los Angeles and not to any firm of building contractors."

Here is an example of young "United States," and no mistake. It is sent to The Times by a resident of Los Angeles who clipped it from an Eastern newspaper:

BUILDING.

While the real estate market is a little "off" this week, building keeps up as briskly as ever, and new edifices are going up all over town.

In Eastern States there has been of late a steady diminution in regard to the comparative merits of iron and steel in buildings. An expert writes upon this subject in an Eastern contemporary as follows:

"I am decidedly in favor of cast-iron for all vertical supports of a building, columns, etc., for reasons of economy, as well known, will not rust beyond the thickness of a knife-blade, after which for some reason unknown, the process of oxidation stops and the metal seems to be secure against further invasion. Wrought iron, on the contrary, and possibly steel, although as to the rusting of the latter experts know little or nothing."

MACCABEE KNIGHTS GATHERING AT THE OPERAHOUSE.

The Fourth of the Lenten Series is Devoted to a Paper on "Social Customs"—Other Local Doings.

PASADENA, March 21.—(Special Correspondence.) At the opera house Wednesday evening a large and enthusiastic gathering of the Knights Macabees, of the local and visiting order, listened with profound attention to the able lecture given by the Supreme Commander of the Knights Macabees of the world.

The theater was handsomely decorated with flowers and palms, and there were a number of ladies in the audience. Commander Markey devoted the larger part of his address to the consideration of the aims and objects of the order, its benefits and the fraternal spirit which such an organization engenders. He related at some length the history of similar organizations in this country, and gave statistics of their growth and present numbers. The Knights Macabees, according to the statement of the commander, is the youngest of the beneficiary orders and though organized only fourteen years ago, has at the present time 4000 tents in a flourishing condition, with a membership of 181,000. The families of the members are provided in times of sickness and death, and the benefit of the order, and the benefits are regulated so that the dues are said to be light. Commander Markey alluded to the theory which is held by many persons that beneficiary orders are antagonistic to regularly organized insurance companies, and stated that this was erroneous, for the benefit of the beneficiary orders was with their name indicated, and that their benefits were enjoyed by the members themselves, and did not come after they were beyond the pale of enjoyment. Commander Markey remained in town over night, and today made the trip to Echo Mountain, where a large number of the local Macabees went to Long Beach. Wednesday he took part in the festivities there, and all expressed themselves as having had a "glorious day." Lowinsky's orchestra furnished the music for the evening's entertainment, and J. H. Plant gave recitations.

THE LENTEN SERIES.

At La Sola this morning, Margaret Collier Graham read an exceedingly interesting paper upon "Social Customs," to which an interested audience of ladies listened with evident delight at the many clever points made by the lecturer. Beginning with the distinction between etiquette and love of our fellow-man, Mrs. Graham related that there was always a mutual relation between the two, and that those who professed the one, were in reality the other. She also dwelt on the importance of the social customs in the church and the temple, and so far from reviling the social customs, that obtain, she said, in substance, that the best of them were the crystallized common sense of society, and that those who professed the one, did not share in the world's immorality. Etiquette, like geometry, should be tried, and those found to "fit" should be adopted, while others should be cast aside, no matter how fashionable they were. Speaking of the prevailing tendency of women to study white and other artificial manners, in which they might become proficient, Mrs. Graham alluded to the custom of prize-giving at entertainments where such games were the chief feature, and deprecated the tendency to mock hospitality mercenary. It was refreshing to hear a really womanly woman express the folly of such a course, and to touch with a keen appreciation of true womanhood, and its proper sphere of action. This Mrs. Graham did, and among other of the social customs of the sex, she directed a bit of quiet sarcasm at the women who rise early, cook breakfast, wash the dishes and attend the children to school, and then have time to hurry off to attend the meeting of a committee for the alleviation of the woes of the working woman. Among the many apt illustrations of how well intentioned women of wealth attempt to lighten the burdens of the poor, she instanced the case of a New York visiting committee who visited the homes of the wives of workmen, and asked them all sorts of questions, about the temperature, income and general character of their spouses. The workingmen's wives then organized, and in visiting their wealthy callers put them exactly the same questions, with results quite favorable to fraternal spirit. The lecture throughout was excellent and justified the high reputation which Mrs. Graham has achieved.

Mrs. Ellen B. Farr's exhibition of paintings today at Hotel Green, was a creditable showing of skill and industry, and the list of subjects treated was varied. Fishes from Catalina, pebbles from the seashore, violets and the other floral beauties of the vicinity were well represented, and a painting showing characteristic Indian battles, attracted much attention.

In the parlors of the First Congregational Church Friday evening, the ladies will serve doughnuts and coffee in "old-time style," and the Pomona College Club will also disperse refreshments to the congregation and to all visitors who happen to drop in to enjoy the entertainment provided for them by the ladies of the church.

MASTER INNOCENCE.

Young Hull Was Naughty Back in Chicago.

An evening paper published a cock-and-bull story about a young man named J. A. Hull, now in the County Jail, awaiting trial on the charge of forgery, who ascribes his downfall to the racing poolrooms in this city. Young Hull, in an interview, was previous to the time he saw the seductive sign over the entrance to the Metropolitan Turf Club rooms. He went inside, placed the races and poker till he lost $100, then had found sight draft cashed at the bank. Of course he was arrested, according to his own story, as the forged draft came to him through the post office, and was not uttered by him.

The poolrooms may have a very demoralizing effect on the youth of the land, but there is nothing to do with the case, but to let it stand. The side of the police shows that Hull was a very bad young man before he struck Los Angeles, and that his downfall is in nowise due to the poolrooms in this city.

A letter from H. C. Crane of the Diamond Match Company to the Chief of Police, dated Chicago, February 1, 1895, states: "Chief of Hull's presence in Los Angeles, and says in part:

"Hull is a bad man, and is swindling every one he can. He is in your city today, and has wired me, asking if I would accept his draft for $100, to which I have made no reply. I discharged him for swindling early in December, and he has been swindling ever since. You had better look out for him in your city, as he will swindle any one he can with whom he comes in contact. He is a notorious liar and does not display any excitement when placed in a position wherein he is accused of dishonesty, either in action or in word, and you will find him hard to convict, except on the most conclusive evidence."

This description suits Hull very well. He is very smooth, but his story about the local poolrooms being responsible for his downfall will not help his case any, as the police say they have sufficient evidence to send him to San Quentin.

An letter from Miss Agnes Wren, No. 719 Taylor street, San Francisco, also in the hands of the police, tells how Hull came to a lodging-house, kept by her, on December 28, stating that he was in the employ of the Diamond Match Company of Chicago, devoting most of his time to playing poker and cards. On January 19, he skipped out, owing Miss Wren nearly $30 for board and room.

From this and other testimony at hand it will be seen that Hull was not altogether lamblike when he first entered a Los Angeles poolroom.

VICTIM OF NEGLECT.

Another Case Where Christian Science Was at Fault.

The Coroner will today inquire into the circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Alice Samis of Whittier, who died of purpura, or superinduced, it is alleged, by lack of proper medical treatment. In other words, the story as it reaches the Coroner's office, is that the dead woman is a victim of "Christian Science."

It has been reported to the Coroner that Jessie Samis, the woman's husband, being a firm believer in Christian Science, refused to employ any doctor but a faith doctor after his wife's confinement. She died before she gave birth to a child who was compelled to get up and go to work, but suffered a relapse. Puerperal fever set in, but still her husband refused to employ a regular physician.

Dr. Wright attempted to investigate the case, and his deputy constable, it is alleged, went to the Coroner for that purpose, but were denied admittance to the sick woman, being assured that she was getting along all right.

Gossip in the neighborhood is that the woman suffered terribly, and the husband was urged to send for a regular physician but could not hear to it, saying the Christian Science would pull her through all right.

Death finally relieved the victim of her agony, and now the Coroner proposes to find out whether responsibility for her untimely passing rests on her husband or any one else, or whether it was simply the God of Some sensational developments are looked for at the inquest.

Burglary or Borrowing.

Joseph Preciado was arrested last night by Officer Talamantes and booked for burglary. It is charged that Preciado entered the room of a man named Figueroa, while the latter was asleep, and abstracted $30 from his clothes. The owner admitted that he had "borrowed" the money while Figueroa slept, and before he was locked up his friends produced it and paid it back to the owner, but that did not square the charge against Preciado, who will have to make an explanation in court.

side Fruit Exchange, has announced the intention of the Universal Chamber of Commerce to establish headquarters in Los Angeles during the fiesta week, for the benefit of visitors from the East, as well as those from Riverside.

S. W. Taylor, organizer of the Orange County Chamber of Commerce, called yesterday and stated that a representative from Orange county would be here for one day each week, to look after the interests of Orange county and keep the exchange in order.

Scharff & Shorting have refreshed and added to their beautiful display of German pantries.

An odd and interesting exhibit is a branch from a peach tree loaded with blossoms and bearing one ripe peach, which comes from the orchard of Mrs. Martha Jones of Garvanza.

The local artists are preparing to rearrange the Chamber of Commerce art gallery early in April and will add a number of new pictures.

There is a larger demand for literature at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday than at any time during the past month.

People are immensely interested in the fruit display to be made in the fiesta procession, and the Chamber of Commerce managers are considering suggestions.

Word has been received at the Chamber of Commerce that the Southern California exhibits, sent on to be displayed before the Farmers' Club of New York State, have been arranged in the American Institute building by Dr. Hexamer, who designs lectures on the subject.

Dr. Hexamer was here during January and February, with the pomologists, and is amply qualified to do justice to the subject of his lecture.

East Side Entertainment.

The Arroyo W.C.T.U. gave another pleasing entertainment at the tent on Garfield street Monday evening, under the superintendence of Mrs. Adams. Messrs. Powers and Harris rendered several instrumental duets on the guitar and violin. Miss Voss gave a beautiful exhibition of club swinging to the musical accompaniment of Miss Savage, and Mrs. Sherman and Bell did some judo exercises with their feats of tumbling, at which the young amateurs are very proficient and graceful. Frank Frary, as "Uncle Sam," sang a verse to the tune of "Yankee Doodle." The entertainment closed with an illuminated tableau with the tumbler, "Uncle Sam," Miss Morgan as "Columbia," Miss Gitt as the "Goddess of Liberty," in the foreground, and the other characters, the "Pilgrim Mothers," etc., grouped behind them.
